PROPHECIES 1

SCOTLAND, ENGLAND, FRANCE, IRELAND, And DENMARK.

Prophesied by marvelous Merling, Beid, Berlington, Thomas Rymer, Waldhave, Eltrain, Banester, and Sybilla.

All agreeing in one, both in Latine Verley

Containing many strange and marvelous materials, not of before read not beard.

Printed in the Year, 1690,

SACRO & AUGUST. MONAR.

JACOBO,

Magnæ Brit. Gal. & Hib. Regi, &c.

Nviste Regum Regibus edite
Regnum BRITANNUM qui imperio regis
Regali, & unus Christiana
Regala, tum typus es regendi:

Regnum relictum funere regio Regnum receptum munere patrio,

Regnes beatus, nos regendos, Usque tuæ soboli relinquens. A L 1 U D.

Onditor humani generis, custosque Jehovah,
Nil homini tribuit, moderato Principe majus:
In quo vera Dei, vivensq; elucet imago,
Essigiem quam sers, invicte Monarcha Britannum
Expectate diu, cui vatum oracla priotum
Aurea compositis promittunt secula bellis,
Vive diu, sed vive Deo, vitaq; peracta
Puriter, atterna compostus pace quiescas,

Prisca Scotorum Prophetia,

S Cotia mæsta dole, propria jam perdita prole,
Regibus orba tuis, fraude subacta tuis.
2. Proh dolor! ancilla sit libera, fraus petit illa,
Ignare sobolis gens, perit ecce dolis.

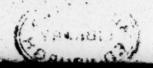

3. Magnifici funus regis, dolor omnibus unus, Subdita non legi, dat male Regna Regi.

4. O gravis anxietas, sexus dolet omnis, & ætas:
Quem fera mors rapuit, natio Scota luit.

5. Pridem terra ferax, gens martia, natio verax, Perdiderat gratum, quem tenuere statum.

6. Duro

2

Duro conflicu, fortunæ mobilis icu, Sunt in deterius, verla beata prius. 7. Sub juga venifti, quæ victeix ante fuiti Advens fceptra gerit, quæ veitt, enfe terit. 8. Angiorum nati, nec vi, nec more probati, Væ ibi quod solo præda fuere dolo. 9. Gens invincibilis, gens forcis, gensqueivirilis. Succebuit faris, res mileranda faris. 10. Gloria Scotorum , vernens ætate priorum : Vel canta cladis, obtenebrata cadis. TI. Ecce repentina funt hujus caufa ruina, Concemprus fidei, fraus, dolus, ira Dei. 12. Rerum cæcus amor, inopum oppreffio, clamos Jugi, plebs retegens, natio legis egens. 12. Faitus majorum, viciorum caula priorum, Peccati fomes legis inepta comes, 14. Hunc cecinere ftatum, veterum prælagia vatum, Singula vovere quæ cecinere fere. 15. Scandala, ternores, plagas, variole; dolores, Ex lerie fati Scotia dilce pati. 16. Gens furget ex te diverfa prosperitate, Vix poterunt fcribi, damna futura tibi. 17. Sed ne disperes, que tantis luctibus hæres, Non elt perperus plaga futura tua. 18. Credo licet fera, Veterum præfagia vera, In bonitate Dei, fit tibi cura ipei. 19. Nam quæ tot pateris, quæ jam captiva videris, Tandem folveris, imperialis eris. 20. Desuper evenier tibi virtus, Scotisfiet Ultima prosperior, quam qua vita prior. 21. Promittunt veteres, quod erat tibi bellicus hæres. Qui sua jura novans, Regna juvabit ovans. 22. Stra-Duro Adv. Bil.

ah,

us :

m

15:

X,

22. Stragibus immensis sudabit scoricus ensis, Rex prædet cunctor ulter ubique rece.

23. Irtuet Angligens per eum gens, non fine pons, Enfe, fiti, flette, pefte, tremore, metu.

24. Hoftibus afflicti, ftratis, per prælia victis, Scotia tuque tui, piacida paci frui.

Alia Prophetica,

Ternus eric, Scotis commoda magna ferens Ortus & interitus Regnum fatalis, & ideni Anglorum ad Scotum transferet imperium.

Alia Prophetica , de Cathedra Marmorea

Nifallar farum, Scoti quocunque locatum, Invenient lapidem, regnare tenentur ibidem. Laus Jovæ, variæque hæres, hæres & Elisæ, Namq; abeunt, tibi at adveniunt, sine sanguine regna

The same in Scottish Meeter.

Scotland, be fad now, and lament thy Child whom thou hast lost:

Berest of Kings, fassly undone by thine unkindly host.

Alace I the free is bond become, and deceir it is thy fall: The fallbood of the brutish race has brought thee into thral. 3. The grave of the most noble frince, to all is great regrate, Not subject to law, who doth seave the Kingdom and Estate.
4. O anguish great I where every kind of age doth lament; Whom birrer death hath tage away, that Scotland fore repents. Lately a Land of rich increase, a Nation stout and true. Has lost their former dear estate, which they did hold of due, 6. By hard conflict, and by the chance of mobile Fortunes force, Thine hap and thy prosperity is turned into worse. 7. Thou wont to win now is fubdu'd, and come in under yoke : A ftranger reigns, and dort deftroy what he likes with fwords ftrok, 8. The English race, whom neither force nor manners do approve, Wo is to thee by guilt and flight is only win above.
9. The mighty Nation was to fore invincible and flout, Has reelded low to defliny : great pity is but doubt. to. In former age the Scots renown did flowrith goodly gay; But now, alace! is overclade with a great dark decay. t. Then mark and fee what is the caufe of this fo woundrous fall, Contempt of faith, fallhood, deceit, the wrath of God withal. 12. Uniatiable greed of worlds gain oppression, cryes of pour, Perpetual a flandrous race, no juftice pute in ure.

Same der

12. The haughty pride of mighty men, of former vice thief cause. The nutriture of wickedness an unjuft match of Laws. 14. Therefore this cafe the Prophets old of long time did prefage, As now bath happened every point into this prefent age. 15. Sitee Face is fo, now Scotland learn in patierce to abide Slauders, great fears, and fudden plagues, and dolours mo befide. 15. For out of thee thall reople rife, with divers happines, And yet a pen can feareely write thy burt, skaith and diffres. 17. And yer beware thou not diftruft, although overwhelm'd & grief; Thy froke is not perpetual, for thou that find relief. 18. I do suppose, although too late, old Prophecies shall hold: Hope thou in Gods goodness ever, and mergics marifold. w. For thou ther tow a piciene is, a d febreit to be bound, At liberry thall free be fet and with en pire renown'd. 20. From high above that! grace come down, and flate thy Sect and be In letter end more profperous to: former age did fee. 21. O'd Prophecies toretei to thee a warlike heir Le's born, Who Iball recover new his right, advance his Kingdon's horn. 22. Then shall the score sword sweat with blood, and flaughter which they make : The King him felt revenger, shall the quilty troups down wrack. With fword, with thirft, with tears and peft, w fear, and fuch like ague. 24. And after enemies be's thrown down, and mattered by war. Then Scotland it peace quietly pass joyful days for ever.

regna, When HEMPE is come, and also gone,

Scotland and England shall be all one.

HENRY, EDWARD, MARY, PHILIP, ELIZABETH. the eight. the fixth. of Spain Q. M. husband.

Praifed be God alone, for HEMPE is come and gone, And left us old ALBION, by peace joyned in one.

> Tempore pater occulta veritas. In cime appeareth hidden Truth.

Erling fays in his Book, who will read right, Although his fayings be uncouth, they fhall be true found.

In the leventh chapter, read who fo will, ous fall, One thou and and more after Chrifts birth, When the Callender of Cornwel is calleds ,3. n And the Wolf our of Wales is vanquisht for ay,

Then

prove,

na,

cos

e,

A loft:

Then many ferlies shall fall, and many folk die,
Many selcouth shal be seen in all Christen lands,
In the Moon and the See, and signs in the Sun,
And in all Planets plainly that appears to the sky.
Then shal the Lyon be best in the broad Norths
And a fellon flaw shall fall soon after,
And a shedding of blood within short time
Both the Moon and the Merns great dool shall make
And all Mar shall mourn many days after
The great Bear with his tusks the field shall lose,
A fell showre of the South shall fade him for ever,
And that Leid shall his life lose in another land,

And to the Kyth shall he go that he came from,
With much wealth and worship shall he go home,
And inhabite Albany unto the end,
Both the Yles and Arran at his own will,
Many men shall laugh when he home comes.
But much selcouth shall be seen within short time
At his own kind blood, there shall he begin:
Choose of the chiefest; and chop off their heads:
Some harled in sleds, and hanged on hie;
Some put in prison and much pain bide

With unkind blood, and yet shal recover:
And other beites in whole banish for ever,
Coverice shall be his name, the King of that Ky:
For both his heart and his head shal be of shirt forg
No Lord shal live in that land but himself alone
But they are brieved in bill, to keep them in ba
Yet shal a man of more vail mar him for ever,
For suddenly he shal go down, and die in a fen.
There shal no King come in that Kyth for a long to
But a figure of a flowre, the fairest of the firths is, n, sky.

nake,

er,

ucb,

mes

ime,

is a

me,

Kyth, torgel lone:

fen.

The white flowre and the red, so shal he be called.

In the mouth of Arran a selcouth shal fall,
Two bloody Hearts shal be taken with a salse train,
And deally dung down without any dome:

Ireland, Orkney, and other lands many:
For the death of these two great dool shal make.

Then much forrow is seen within seven years,
Both the Crab and the Cock, they shall escape:
For more harm at that time they shall not have,
When she Reven roups, many shall rew,
From Cornwel to Caithnes they shall his cry hear,
When the Gled in his clist, is clim'd to the hight,
He counts not the Lyon that is his kind Lotd.
Then the Grap would govern a hand gapes therefore
With great gifts of gold the shall move moved be get:
Come he once in his clooks, he covers it never.
Then would a poor cative be keeper of the Kyth,
Yet shall it sail the freit that the fool thinks,

When the Cock crows, keep well his comb, For the Fox and the Fulmart they are falle both, When the Raven and the Rook has rounded together And the Kid in his clift that accord to the fame, Then shalchey be bold, and soon to bail after. Then shal the Buck in belling rime make a great bear, It is but wind that he wafts, for he is but away : Then fhal waken up a war, and much wo after, When the birds of the Raven rugs and reaves, And the leil men of Lothian be loppen on their horfe Then shal the poor people be spoiled full near, And the Mers shal mourn many days after, And all the Abbies truly that stands upon Tweed, And all Louthian shal live on their lives anter, They that burn and flay, and great reifs make. There dare no poor man fay whole man he is,

A 4

There

There shal the land be lawless, for love there is none, And salshood shal have foot fully five years, And truth truly shal be tint, and none shal trust other: The Cousine once shal not trust the other, Nor the son the sather, nor the sather the son, For to have his goods, he would have him hanged. Then shal they a counsel call for peace of the Kyth, To make love among Lords, but that shal not last: For those Barrons and Batchelors that will not obey, That will not keep to their cry, nor come to their call.

Then that men be marked for their misseeds,
That that turn them to then within a while after;
When 14 are past, and twise three, the threep is at end,
And over a water be shal, and fair see for himselt;
And in a fair forrest shal an Eirn big,
Many men shal loose their life in the mean time,
For they shal pitch a field, and siercely sight.
Upon a broad moot a battel shal be,
Beside a stock Cross that stands in the North:
It is covered with dead corps, and all of a Kyth,
That the crow may not know where the Cross stood.

The wolf shal be watch-man, and keep many ways And shal be liel to the I yon, his own kind Lord. Hely Church is cumbered with the best of the Kyth, With languages that lives not by Christ, but that sha From Balcomy to the Bals on the broad sea, (not last And from Ireland in the Forth shal be a fair sight Of barges and billingers, and many broad sail, With three libbetts & the slowrdeluce fair upon high Then shal an hunter in haste come forth of the South With many ratches in row, ruled sull right, And shal go on his foot over the water of Forth, And in Fife shal he sight, and the field win, And the Chistans shal die on either side.

When the man in the Moon is most in his might,
Then shal Dumbarcon turn up that is down,
And the mouth of Arran both at one time.
And the Lord with the lucken hand his life shal he lose
For coverouness and treason, that loses the land.

ne

ber:

1, A :

bey,

call.

r;

1

ood.

ways,

yth,

t fhal

ot laft.

hight

South,

When

end,

When the craigs of Tarbet is tumbled in the fease
And the next fummer after forrow for ever.
Beids books have I feen, Banesters also,
Marvelous Merling and all accords in one;
Marvelous Merling is wasted away,
With a wicked woman, wo might she be:
For she has closed him in a craig on Cornwel cos R.

When the cock in the North hath builded his new Busked his birds, and bowned him to fiee; Then shal fortune his friend the gates up cast,

And right fhal have his free entrie.

Then rise shalthe Moon in the North-well, In a cloud as black as the bill of a crow; Then is loosed a Lyon, the boldest, and the best That was born in Britain since Arthurs days. Then shall adreadful dragon dress him from his den; To help the Lyon with his great might: A ball and a besterd spurs shall spend, To abide with the bear to reckon his rights.

A libbert engendred of native kind,
With the stern of Bethlehem, shal rise in the South:
An horse and an anthelop boldly shal abide,
A bear and a brock, with berns so bright,
A proud Prince in the prease Lordly shal light,
With bold barons in bushment to battle shal wend:
Then shal the Prophecy prove that Thomas of tells.
Many comely Knight is cast under foot,
That shal make maidens mourn that in bowr dwels:
The dreadful day of destiny shal drive to the night,
Shal

Shal make maidens and wives in mourning be brought.
Then they meet in the morning with the Moon light,
Betwix: Seton and the (ea forrow shal be wrought.
There the Lyon shal be hurt and not perceived:
Then shal he braid to the beast that him the hurt wrought.

wrought,

And many stern in the stound shal fold to the sree,
And the proudest in the prease to bail shal be brought.

The sey fox and the sulmart in arms are taken,
And led to the Lyon low to abide:

The pyper and the pye, shal suffer the same:
All the triends of the fox shal be sey made.

Then shal Troy untrue tremble for dread, (speak.
For dreeddor of the dead man, when they hear him All the commons of the Kyth shal cast him the keys.

The bushment of Beverlaw there with shal break.

When war men and woods away went;
And every feed in his feafon kindly is fer,
And right well ruled, and fashood is fled:
Then shall be plenty of peace, when laws have no let.
The spoule of God shall sing with a joyful song
That king God thereof and the Trinity.
And all grace and goodness shall grow us among:
And every truit shall have plenty by Land and Sea.
Then the Sun and Moon shall shine bright,
That many days afore dark bath been,
And keep their course both day and night,
With more mirth then men have seen.
As Barlingtons books, and Banester us tels,
Merling, and many mo, that with marvels mels,
And also Thomas Rymer in his tales tels.

They say the Saxons shal choose them a Lord,
That shal make them greatly to fall under:
The dead man shal rise and make them accord,

An

And this is much wonder and flight, That he that was dead and buried in fight Shal rife again, and live in the land, In comfort of a young Knight, That Fortune hath choien to be her Husband: The wheel that turn to him full right, That Fortune hath chosen to be ber fiere; In Surrey that he thew a fights In Babylou bring many a beirn or beir, Fifteen miles from Jerufalem the holy Crofs win fhal (he: The same Lord that bears the Lyon, At Stanfoord wan the gree, Fortune hath granted him the victory, Since fi t that be arms bare : For without treason or traitory, Deftiny fhal not him deir, While kind of ege till him drive, For every man on Mold mutt die: But end he first in the land of Christ, And in the vale of Jehofapha: buried fhal he be.

The Prophecie of B .J.

Before the heat of the Harvett happen shal a war.
That Europs lands earnestly shal be wrought,
And earnest envy shal last but a while:
But the Lyon with his lusty flowres,
For harm of heard heat shal hap him with leaves:
Then speed and spread him to Spain into Winter,
All flowres in the Forth shal follow him n.
Callender shal cry, Cornwel the noble,
And inherit all Albany at his own will,

Did A moscycians, and Albany the same,

And

ı,

o let.

Sha

hal recover Caftles & Towns our of Saxons hands When Britoners fhal beat them with brands of feel, There shal no baffards blood bide in these Lands. Albanus that time King of the Earth, Albanadus King and Lord of the Land. To the Lilly shallesn, and love none other, The Lyon leader of all, and Lord of all beafts, Shal lean to the Lilly, and live him with : And that ftir him to frive by the ftream of Humber The flep-fons of the Lyon flurdily of themselves, They fhal ftare up with firite, and ftir all at once, And frike down the ftep long, & deftroy them for Neither love they the Lilly nor the Lyon, (VE But the Lilly that be lowle when they leaft ween, Then all final happen to the Hart, happen as it may And the rail of the Summer toward the Harves, Burthen the Lilly final be loofed when they leaft this Then clear Kings blood that quake for fear of death For Churles thal chop off needs of their chief beim And carve off the Crowns that Christ hath anointe . All this must destiny drive to an end. An Eagle out of the Eaft, a venterous beaft, Shal be glad flowes to fang in the firft feafch. And flir to the ftep-lon, and frike them together Bind bands bruckle, ball to begin, For he would Garlands get of thefe fair flowres That in Summer fealon spreads fo fair. But foon shal fail the freit that the fool thinks, A fell Northern flaw that fade him for ever. Hereafter on either fide forrow find rile, A The barges of clear Barons down that be funken : Seculars fhal fit in spiritual feats, Occupying Officers, anointed as they were, The true tittle to purchase that the truth holds.

They fist corment them with torments anew. hands : Then Barons shal busk on their best wife, Acel, Accour the feis, to fair with a fey fox bird, ds. Turn firft to Chrift with tods wiles : But foon the tod fhal be tint, and his time lofed, They foal escape such a chak, eschew who so may; Then that the nobleft escape with the felles, ŝ, Yet fhal the one fox in the field escape : The falcon that be loufed in his wings. mber, Wholo trults not this tale, nor the term knows. .5) Let him on Merling mean, and his merry words, nce, And true Thomas cold in his time after. for e-At Sandfoord that be feen example of their deeds, (ver. Yet it must overdrive the tod in his busk. n, Busk thee now Barwick with thy broad walls. may, Thou shale incline to thy King that is thy kind Lord: ct, As Saine Beid of that burgh in his book bys, t chink Thou fhale with the Lyon lean, and leften for ever. sarh. Thogh thou be lubjed to the Saxons, forrow thou not beimi, Thou fhalt be loufed at laft, believe thou in Chrift. ointed, And every language that have his Lordship to brook. It was not loft, but lent for a little time. ſt, Bold Berwick be blyth with thy broad walls. Thou shale to the Lyon stoop, as Lord of his own: ther : Let never the libbert lippen longer a day, In hold Britain to brook a foot broad of earth. Whofo deubts of this deed, or denys hereon, I do them well for to know the date is devised: Take the foremost of middle earth, and mark by the With four crescents closed together : (felf, Then of the Lyon the longest fee thou choose, Loufe not the Lyonels, let her ly ftill. If thou cast through case the course of the heaven. Take Saint Andrews crois thrife: Keep They Keep well thefe teachments, as Clarks have told, Thus begins the date , deem as thou likes : Thou fhelt not ceale in that leat affumed in the text ; Or the hight of the hear nearest the winter. No tail of the term will I thee tell, Burchaftity the Chiftain of their chief wrongs. Or in the hight of harvest, beard of thy felf, Shal wicked wierd undo, and to the right. And this, ere I wift, I wakened anone. Though I write as it was, I wift it not.

The Prophecie of Merling. T is to fall when they it find, That fell on face is fain to flee, That comed are of fterdlings frinds Waving through the work of wind : The bear his muffel fhal up bind, And never after bound shal be. Away the other shal wave with wind, And as they come. lo fhal they flee.

Syce shal up, and cing shal under, The dead shal rife and work great wonder. And joy shal rife to man and wife, The fortowful fhal ftill of ftrife. All men shall joy of his Resurrection, And in special men of Religion. The morrer is ready the pestel alfo, The faule shal be bitter, and that to his foe, And the Devilsalfo shal helpen to. Then the banks of Beil shal bloom all about : Then hie the Hurcheon to Hales, & close thee there-

Thou fhalt be warped with a wind, & plucked ilk pen, Shal never doun on thy skin, nor birs be thee lefts . The thunder shal work thy hold to the cold earth;

Shal

(in.

Shal never ftone upon ftone, nor ground be thee left, And fo that wretched work is destroyed for ever. There fhal a Galyart Goat with a golden horn, A Pilledow, with a Toad, luch a prime hold, Wirh their Pears in a place by a ftream fide, To frive with the ftream, but they no ftrength have; For their movidg they meet in the mid way. All the grooms thal grounch by the way fide, And many bairns that have his bych on the back fide, And that marvel fhal fall by a Firch fide, Where the leader of the Land shal his life lose, But that bargain fhal brew in a bare burgt, That shal banish trom blefs many bright helme, When it is brieved of his back, and his brief known. Of dumb O:gans dight, then may thou well deem, Of all the weil & the wealth before then was wroght With hunger and hirship on every hill, Yet this wicked world fhal laft but a while : While a Chiftain unchosen choose forth bimself, And ride over the Region, and for Roy holden, Then his curifiers thal skail all the fair South. From Dumbarton to Dover, and deal all the lands, He shal be Kid conquerour, for he is kind Lord Of all Britain that bounds to the broad fea, The conqueffing that be keeped, and never conqueft By the cost ye shal know when the Knight comes, He hasa mark in the middle where no man may know. When he is fer in the Eaft when the sun rifeth, He his a fign fhal fhew on the south fide, Signum venenosi fanguinis de ventre matris sua. All Wales I wish shal wend with that Roy, For to work his will, where he think would, Guians, Gaskoin, and Britain the blyth, Shal Shal busk to his bidding on their best wife,

(in:

-213

pen,

Then shal he turn into Tuskane but treaty or rrew. And busk him over the mountains on mid winter eve And then go to Rome and rug down the walls. And over all the Region Roy shal be holden. Ost in this book have I seen, and better thereafter, Os marvellous Merling, but is wasted away, With a wicked woman wo might she be.

The Prophesic of Berlington.

T Hen the Ruby is railed, reft there is non But much rancor shal rife in river & plai Much forrow is feen through a fleuth hound, That bears horns in his head like a wild Harre Then a Brock shai make a braid on a broad field, And a Hound shal bear aback with a brim face ; The flouthful flouth hound that flay him for ever, Through a treaty of a trew, a train shal be made, That scotland that rue, and England for ever, For the which G'adimoor & Govanmoor gapes ther Then fhal the banks of Beil bloom all about. (alte Then hye the Hurcheon to hales, & close the there Thou shale be warped with a wind, & plucked ilk pe Shal never doun on thy skin, nor birs be thee left, A thunder shal work thine hold to the cold earth : Shal never Rone upon stone, on ground be thee leit And fo this wretched beaft is deftroyed for ever. When faith fails in Prelats fawes,

When faith fails in Prelats fawes,
And temporal Lords will hold new I aws,
And Lechery holden for privy folace,
And reef holden for good purchase,
When Rome is divided into two parts,
And every Priest hath the Popes power,
Then shal the land of Albany,

.

rrew. Man fin forthink, and mils amend, er eve Dread God, do Law, think on the end, Betwixt Temptallon and the Bafs, Thou fhale fee a right fair fight eafter, Of barges and billingers, and many broad fail, With three libberts, & the flowrdeluce hie upon hight And fo the dreadful Dregon fhal rife from his den, And from the deep doughty that draw to the hight. Of Bruces left fide fhal fpring out a leaf, snone As near as the ninth degree, & plat And fhal be fleemed of fair Scotland, In France far beyond the fea : 13 And then that come again riding, ld, With eyes that many men may fee : . 3 At Aberlady he fhal light, ver, With hempen helters and horle of tree ade, On Gosford green it final be feen, On Gla is mooi fhal the battle be. there Now Albany thou make thee bown, (after At his bidding be how prompt : thered He that deal both tower and town, ik per His gifts that ftand for evermore. left, Then boldly bown thee thereafter. th : 1 Upon a broad moor a battle fhal be, e leit, Beside a stob cross of stone, Which on cite moor Rands hie. It shal be clearly clad over with corps of Knights; That the crow may not know where the cut is thos ? Many wife fhal weep, and fyce flint under, The dead fhal tile, and that fhal be wonder, And rex him rudely in his fhire shield, For the great comfort of a new King. Now his powake with the proud thowers Take It shal not be Gladimoor by the sea,
It shal not be Gladimoor by the sea,
It shal be Gladimoor where ever it be,
And the little lown that shal be,
Is betwize the Lowmond and the Sea.
And well is the man in all his life,
That hath a core-house into Fise:
And yet once shal come the day,
He would the core house were away.

And there shal come an Hound our of the Sou With him a rayment of ratches ruled right,
And actor for the keinly shal he come,
And in Fyse shal fight and the field win:
Yet shal a Northern shaw fail him for ever,
And kill him to consuson, and return never.

An Eagle then shal come out of the North, With a flock of birds, fair at the flight, Which shal make many foot founder and fall.

Then shal a Ghost come out of the West, With him a fair meinye,.
Upon the Eagle make him bown:
But he so nye then shal he flee,
Icannot tell you what he height,
A bastard trow I best he be:
His name shal not be exprimed as now,
For he was gotten with a Lady in privity.
His doughty dead is without all doubt,
Shal comfort all his company.

The Lyon shal be Lord of all,
The Franch wife shal bear the son,
Shal welld all Britain to the sea;
And from the Bruces blood shal come,
As near as the ninth degree,

M

Marvelous Merling that many men orek and Thomas layings comes all at once; Though their layings be felcouth, they that be footh (founds And there shal all our glading be. The Crow fhal fit upon a stone, And drink the gentie blood to free, Take of the ribiand give to her birds: As God hath faid, fo must it be. Then fhal Ladies lads wed, And brook Caftles and Towrs hie, Beid bath brieved in his book, and Banefter alfo, Marvelous Merling, and all accords in one: Thomas the true that never fpake falle, Confents to their fayings, & the fame term has taken : Yet shal there come a keen Knight over the falt lea, A keen man of courage, and bold man of arms, A Dukes fon doubled, a born man in France, That shal our mirths amend, and mend all out harm, After the date of our Lord 1513, & thrife three there., Which shal brook all the broad Isle to himlelf. Betwixt 13 and thrife three, the threip that be ended The Saxons shal never recover after. He shal be crowned in the Kyth, in the castle of Dover Which wears the golden Garland of Julius Celar. More worship shal he win of greater worth, Than ever Arthur himself had in his days : Many doughty deeds shal he do thereafter, Which shall be spoken of many days better.

The Prophecy of Thomas Rymer,
Still on my ways as I went,
Out through a land befide a lee,
I met a beirn upon the way,
Me thought him feemly for to fee:

asked him wholly his intent, Good Sir, if your will be, Since that you bide upon the bent, Some uncouth tydings tell thou me : When that all thefe wars be gone, That leel men may live in lee? Or when that fallhood go from home, And laughty blow his born on hie? I looked from me no: a mile, And faw two Knights upon a lee, They were armed feemly new, Two croffes on their breafts they bare, And they were clad in divers hew, Of fundry Countreys as they were, The one was red as any blood, Set in a fhield a dragon keen : He firr'd his fleed as he were mads With crabbed words fharp and keens Right to the other beirn him by : His horfe was all of filver fheen, In it a ramping Lyon keen, Seemly into gold was fet, His border was of azure fheen, His shield was tharped right feemly, With filk and fable well was plet. I looked from me over a green, And faw a Lady on a lee, That fuch an one had I never leen; The light of her thined to hie, Arrour the moor whereat the fure : The fields me thought fair and green. She rode upon a fleed full flure, That fuch sa one had I feldom feen Her fleed was white as any milks

His top, his tail were both full blac: A fad fadle fewed with filk, As all were gold, it glittered fae. His harneffing was of filk of Inde, Ser with precious ftones free : He ambled on a noble kind. Upon her head flood Crowns three, Her garment was of gowls gay, Bu: other colour faw I none. A flying fowl then I faw, Light befide her on a ftone ; A floup into ber hand the bare, And holy water the had ready ; She fprinkled the field borh bere and there; Said, here this many dead corps lys At yon bridge, upon yon burn, Where the water runs bright & fheen. There fhal many fleeds fpurn, And Knights die through battles keen. To the two Knights then did the lay, Let be your ftrife, my Knights free, Ye take your horfe, and ride your way, As God hath ordained, lo must it be. Saint And ew thou haft the hight, St. George hou art mine own Knight Thy wrongous heirs fhal work thee no Now are they on their ways gone, The Lady and the Knights two: To that beir that can I ment. And asking tydings, by my fay: What kind of light was that, I faid, Thou shewest to me upon you lee? Dr wherefrom came you Knights two; HifThey feemed of a far Countrie.

That Lady that I let thee fee, That is the Queen of Heaven lo bright The fowl that flew by her knee. That is Saint Michel much of might : The Knights two, the field to ta, Where many men in field fhal fight : Know ye well it fha! be lo, That die fhal many a gentle Knight. With death shal many doughty deal, The Lords shal be then away. There is none Herrer that can tell, Who shal win the field that day. A crowned King in arms three, Under the banner fhal be fet : Two falle and fained fhal be, The third fhal light & make great let. Banners five again fhal ftrive. And come in on the other fide. The white Lyon shal bear them down And work them wo with wounds wide The bears head with the red Lyon, So feemly into red Gold fer, The day that flay the King with crown Though many Lords make great let. There shal the attour the water of Forth, Set in gold the red Lyon, And many Lords out of the North, To that battle shal make them bown : There shal crescents come full keen, That wears the crofs as red as blood: On every fide fhal be forrow feen, Defouled is many doughty food. Beside a logh upon a lee, They that affemble upon a day;

And many doughty man shal die: Few in quiet fhal be found away. Our Scottifh King that come fu! kcen The red Lyon beareth he : A feathered arrow that P I wears Shal make him wink, and war to feet Out of the field he shal be led. When he is bloody, & wo for blood: Yet to his men then did he fay, For Gods love you turn again, And give yon Southern folk a fray : Why should I lose ? the right is mine: My date is not to die this day. Yonder is talfhood fled away, And laugh: y blows his horn on hie. Our bloody King that wears the crown Ful boldly shal the battle bide : His banner fhat be bearen down, And bath none hole his head to hide. The fterns three that day fhal die, That bears the bare in filver theen : There is no riches, gold nor fee, May lengthen his life an hour, I ween, Thus through the field that Knight fhal ride, And twife refcue the King with crown, He will make many a banner yeeld. The Knight that bears the tods three, He will by force the field to tae. But when he fees the Lyon die, Think ye be well, he will have was, Befide him lights beirns three, Two are white, the third is blac, The tods three fhal flay the two, The third of them that make him die:

Out of the field shal go no more, But one Knight and knaves three.

There comes a benner red as blood. In a thip of filver theen, With him comes many ferly food, To work the Scots much hurt and work There comes a Ghoft out of the West, Is of another language than he, To the battle bowns him beft, As foon as he the lenyour can fee. The ratches works them great wanteft Where they are rayed on a lee : I cannot tell who hath the beft, Each one of them makes another die. A white Iwan let into blae, Shal femble from the fouth fea, To work the Northern folk great wae: For know you well, thus fhal it be. The fisiks aught with filver fer, Shal semble from the other fide, Till he and the Swan be met. They shal work wo with wounds wide; Through wounds wide their weeds have wers So boldly will their beirns bide. It is no reck who gets the beft, They shal both die in that same tide. There comes a Lord our of the North Ryding upon a horfe of tree, That broad lands bath beyond Fortha The white Hind beateth be, And two Ratches that are blew . Set into Gold that is fo free : That day the Eagle final him Day, And then put up his banner hie.

The Lord that bears the lofans three; et into gold with gowels two, Before him fhal a battle be : He wears a banner that is blew, Set with Percock tails three, And lufty Ladies heads two: Unfain of one each other fhalbe, All through grief together they go; I cannot tell who wins the gree, Each one of them fhal other flay. The Eagle gray fet into green, That wears the Harts heads three. Out of the South he shal be feen, To light and ray him on a lee, With fil.y five Knights that are keen, And Earls either two or three, From Carleil fhal come bedeen, Again fhal they it never fee. At Pinkin Cleugh there thal be fpilt, Much gentle blood that day, There shal the Bear lose the gyle, And the Eagle bear it away. Before the water men cills Tyne, And there overlayes a bridge of ftone: The Bears three lofe the gree, There hal the Eagle win his name. There comes a beaft out of the West With him thal come a fair menye, His banner hath been feldom feen, A baftard trow I best he be, Gotten with a Lady theen, With a Knight in privity , His arms are full each to know,

The red Lyon beareth he. That Lyon thal forfaken be, And be right glad to fice away Into an orchard on a lee, With herbs green, and alies gay : There shal he inlaked be, His men fayes, Harmelay. The Eagle purs his banner on hie, And fays, the field he won that day. There thal the Lyon ly full fill, Into a valley fair and bright: A Lady shouts with words shril, And fays, Wo worth thee, coward Knight, Thy men are flain upon you hill, To dead are many doughty dight. Thereat the Lyon liketh ill, And raifes his banner hie on hight : Upon the Moor that is fo gray, Befide an headless Crofs of ftone, There shal the Eagle die that day, And the red Lyon win the name. The Esgles three fhal lofe the gree, That they have had this many a day: The red Lyon shal win renown, Win all the field, and bear away. One Crow shal come, another shal go, And drink the gentle blood fo free. When all thele ferlies were away, Then faw I none but I and he : Then to the beirn couth I fay, Where dwels thou? Or in what Countrie? Or who shal rule the Isle Britain, From the North to the South fea?

The French wife shal bear the son
Shal rule all Britain to the sea,
That of the Bruces blood shal come,
As near as the ninth degree.
I frained sak what was his name?
Whence that he came? From what Countrie?
In Brslingtown I dwel at home,
Thomas Rymer men calls me.

The Prophecie of Waldhave.

Pon Lowdon Law alone as I lay Looking to the Lennox, as me leif thought, The first morning of May, medicine to feek, For malice and melancholy that moved me fore: I lay down, and leaned me, and liked well fleep, Upon the hight of an hill, as the voice bade : And as I lay down, and heilded mine eyes, So heard I an hoarfe voice, and an hy cry, That bade me, Waldhave, beware, & thee well keep, For fear of a wild beaft that his wierd dries. Therewith I flenish:, & itood, and start on my feet, and fained me on every fide, as the voice bade: Then I looked but let lightly me fra, And law an hiris on hie of harm togethers An hundred I hope, well wholly there was ; Then of foxes a flock, fully five core, All following on a fierce beaft that rudely them chaft, That was all wood through wierd, woful to fee, Right ragged and rent, and riven in pieces. A battle with like baftoun he bare on his broad lufes, Like a brimful beirn, battle ro make : He thought to effray, and them faft prefed, As he in fold woule them forg, firm at his will;

Th

C 2

Buc

But when he faw me with fight, foon he them left. And when he shundred away, no more I them faw Then grooning grimly, he girt to me foon, As Gerret the great fhrew had done for the Nonce He ftruck fast with his fisff, and ftonish; me fore; But I keeped him by Christ, with a keen weapon, That was my fword, till I fwet, fwinging me about And a buckler well broad that keeped me beat, So freshly he forced me mest for to make, That be shundred on the fold, and his feet inappere The bastoun on the bent fore brased him fra, And I but baid on his breaft, bowned my felf, All grufflings on the ground, graciously him held, Through grace of the great God that had me warne He yelped, he yaimered, and youled loud, And ftrugled fak his ftrength, and ftruck upon lofe : But I heild him by the hair, as mine hap was, . And height to hurt him ful fore; but he him ftill he And conjured him by Chrift, and his mother dears That he should show me to his kyth and kin. But long was it that he lay ere he freak might; And at the last he can leave, and lightly he faid; Waldhave, wit thou that well hath thee hapned, Thou thought not that thy wierd this wrought fhou But let me tile of this race, and reft thee befide, (And I fhal readily, without riot, thee marvels tell Great grace haft thou gotten that got me this time : I that grieve thee no more, to is thy grace turned. But yet I trusted not his tale while he his truth gav By the law and the leed that he lived on, That I fure thould be, and fale, and none ill betide. Then let I him rile, and leaned on his shoulder, And great marvel of his face, and his form had :

lefe. faw He was formed like a freik all his four quarters, And then his chin and his face baired fo thick Nonce With hair growing fo grim, fearful to fee : fore; I frained at him formoft, the fear of himfelf, spon, Why his figure and his face was fo fierce made? about If weary of the World? Or what him siled? He girned, he gasped, and groaned full fore, Wept with his gray eyes, and fuddenly he faid; ppered Good game all the way, is as God will, (ferved : For he is grieved through my guile, and I no grace My wild wanten will, and my milderds, I may know of all wo, and my wierd, alace ! neld, Becaule of my fin that I ferved ever, warnel Hath this forrow and this fight lent unto me, But trouble of my kin that I am off come, lofe: Hath me turned into this care, and careful me made, That I have no hope, fo help me our Lord; ill held While he that puts me in gilef once grace fend, Frain thou no further of my foot lets: Of other works, as I wor, ask if thou likes : Thine erling thou ask may, for answer I shal. aid ; In woods and wilderness where many ways lyes, d, That I hearkned and heard, I height thee to fay. Should Then frowned I fiercly of this frivole world, (b) What to be of war, if he wift ought? tell: Or who should wield us in this world that forrow drie: me: To give us good will, and get us to peace? ned. If there is fruits in this world that fo much worth is, gave, Should have fusion on force, and any fair after? And then he looked to the ground, & wept all a while, tide. And he groaned for grief : weeping he faid, er, ... Much anger and evil hath this Ifte chooled, d: All through Oggered and Cift, and Elvins Knight: He . Brutus, Brutus, thy bairn time has much bail chofen, Since fir a in Bitain to lend thou was brought; Sickness and forrow, and foreness fet with lyth, When thou semble & to the fea under fail found. Norroway hath niddeted them, and to meed brough That had newed their names, and named themselves Englift, that are East food, and Edryans bairns, But all the anger that they make their own fhal be That woful Westimoorland, wo mot thee betide, For thou with war and thy wrong bairns, (lam When thou mels with the Mers, and mixed with the Much malice and mischief thou made for thy felf, Beirns and banners thou brought upon loft, With burning and bail hath wrought forrow. Carlile, thy Captains hath much wo wrought, (lin Thou fish compelled be with care, thou thinks it b Thou shalt thy gates yarn, thou yarns not thereafter Thou thalt yslanur and yell that all York that it hes Then the town shal be tint, trow thou not elfe. Thy tops and thy turnars tumbled to the ground. No falle forrune fo fell, has thee at feed, That force fhal fail thee when thou best thinken, And lippens on London, to lead thee for ever. On Lincon and Lindsay, and Lancaster Shires, There sha a Lyon be tooled and that a Lord is, Both of London and of Lorn, as the Law will : He shal alleage to the leid, and the law make : Leave nought upon loft, but wafte them for ever All the ftrengths of the coaft, and Cafles every He shal inclose them to his Crown & over them co Burgan, Bamburgh, as he by rides: And Burlings beat it down, and burn it for ever. The water shal welcom him, & the waves of the W

While he have won on hie all that he thinks. Through his truth upon Tweed, shal be turned after. ght; If who will count the time of the year, th. If even be eeking the hour, and the day come, brough Neediels thou Norham, for nought that thou lookest und. melver There is a Naker in the North thy neft fhal deftroy: rns, Thou fhale he wafted of thy works for thy wrong deeds hal be. There shal no warrand thee weir that thou winks after ide, A black bear, and a brook, and a bull head, (fame A boar whelp, with a brock, and a broad head, (footh with the Shal then bown in their bours, & bear them down forfelf, And build them up their walls, as they best think. Red Roxburgh thy role, and ready thee bown, Thy root is now railed up, and totten in funder. (lited Three ravens and a took fhal on thy rock fir, it be And roln rudely shal they, that Rome shal it hear, eafter From Rois to Rolden was that right may be, it hear Ready to rescours, thou refts no more; fe. For it is but resson the rights and rents be gathered. nd. What jangleft thou Jedburgh? thou jages for nought There that a guileful groom dwel thee within : seft, The tower that thou trufts in, as the truth is, Shal be traced with a tracer trow thou none other: The new Caftle is keen keeped full weil, Ei, Thereto take ye good heed, nor come not therein ; is, 1: A hird with a hand bow shal the heird keep, . . Hie in an holine, and in an hair wood, ver. Both his horns shal he hang, and halte him therewith. Drefs thee now, Dumbar, and do for the time : y one Thou haft a dread for the drake that thee down would COM Thine seels are fo hard fer with halmets of feel, Well heavy therefore, held thee full fill. . . 7 e fes Ther While

The new work that is next on the North Aream, Shal caft a blink to the Bals, when the blink fhines Be it guided with wit, and will be no waifter ; There find no waifter it wield, nor none ill doer, Hales, hold thee at home, fo hold I it beat ! For hap thou to Halidown, thou art hurt for ever. There is an hurrcheon in an hurk, in Herriot moor, Hath marred the myrinape in Minto craigs, That hath manfions moved, maugre of his teeth, Dirkon and Dalkeith, they dread no more elfe; But the down and the dow that the drake leads : The dragon they drown would, but devise of France Dort for them doughtily, as he hath done ever. Edinburgh, that old craig, is angered full fore, For the aw of the Ern that in the East builds, He hartra Falcons feir, that in far lands Both his fethering and his flight gathered. Needlels they noy them, that is for nought, For they never in their neft that nowrish their birds Striveling that Arait place, a Arength of the land, Why with itrabrook and frathern frives thou to ya When Strabogy fhal deftroy all the Risberries, Striveling that Arait place, a Arength of the land, Why with itrabrook and Arathern strives thou to ya When Strabogy shal destroy all the Araberries, The strands of Strabrook shal Aream them with bloom. Three storks in a stall shal stand them before, Sussed all in Acel weed, all on horse back:

Their Routness shal stint and stonish themselves, For stroaks so stive shal stint them within.

Do now Dumbarton, while thy days last,
A wretched cloud in the West, as Elders thee call For thou art in a craig, thou now care dreads:

Beat thee well to Bothwel, and build it up all.

Then Crawford and Cumnock with clean tren Let not light the lois lesp out of town: (sr eam, For thou art Lord of the lands, & a new Alban King hines To Dowglas now do well, and it dear hold s 1; For Dowglas the doughty may endure well: doer, Deal the best of the lands that longeth thee to, Beed them with fairnels, and fair words. ever. Fy on thy fellowfhip that hath a falle end. moor, Cative and curft men are cumbered for ever There may no cative by Christ this kindred defend. eth. Laughty and largeness are two love things. elfe; He that us life gave , loves them well. 1: Knights and Chriften men, thereto heed take, France Caft the curft men in care, but they to Chrift turn, r. Think on Dumbarton the bold, in old beirns time, That thou art but a beeld, and in that land Chief. Thou fhalt take beed to this token that I fhal thee tell Believe it as truly as it were written : When the Lowmond law that its leave take From the land of Lennox, and leave it for ever; birds. Leap lightly with loup, and look thee about, land, And mantle all the craig with a rower wall, o yar With barges and billingers to rufh at the gates, That both fift and fowl that on flight goes, . blood. Be flitted up freshly, and fair them within. Then is Dumberton burnt all to powder, And all in a cloud, the war ended for ever. And if ye fail of this freit after fourteen years, Yair ye yaiply, and yairn ye no more. The Caftle of Carrick that on a craig ftands, all; Shal cry upon Cumnock for a true neft, That into Clididale coaft clevels fo faft, In an holine so hie by an elf busk. en of Then shal the Galloway grooms get on their mares. arms Three gods and terfel that teen all the woods For From

From Tinmouth to Tukie, and be tole free: But a gofhalk of growth fhal grieve him then, And get on a gray mare that in grass refis. In a gow of Gowry, by a gray stone, He first ruly both the tods, and the tub alfo, And with the teind that is taken, turn into France Two Wearhers and a Wolf shal the field make, Betwire a Yow and a Lamb that leads the flock : Before Butler the bargain fhal begin: All it is bootless, his bags he ript. Then shal the Isle of Rosay be rank, full of fide but Then each man rews them, for rueth of his heart That would rend from the Rood, and no rest thol A carive in a craig that a tower build, And cry on Craig- Fergus, the Grawdon is ever For a book in but, as a bull horn, Bound with a bugle, blow when he likes. A proud pown in a preis Lordly that light, With piots and pilledows pulled in the crown, Plain power of the Pope must the pown have,

A proud pown in a preis Lordly shal light,
With piots and pilledows pulled in the crown,
Plain power of the Pope must the pown have,
To pluck and to punish, and part him about.
A pyot shal partly appeal him again,
For his part of the pelf, and the pown wrong.
There shal much for row and strife stir them once
That shal the Steeling trouble that stirs them was An hare, with an hu tcheon, and an hind calf, (with Shal by them in holy Land, and hold them thetein While a gray hound them grip on the Greek seas,
And go with them grievously where him leis likes.
There shal no gaming them glee, while the gray hound buffer him bitterly, then byte him such was Go musing upon Merling more if thou with;

ree : for I mesn for no more; man, at this time. en, Then I Rudied, Rood, and him held flill; Then he could flurdily for with his broad eyes: But I couch further frain, for his fathers foul, 10, France. ever freik on this fold formed himfelf ? That he should witter me some way, if he wist ought. ke, What of this World, and this war should after betide? ck : Then as a Lyon he looked me on, Like as he leap would, and rent me in funder. de buth He faid, Weens thou, Waldhave, I win into Heaven, heart, That I may in this World all my wir have? thole to whom he gives the grace, they are of good life. But this cale that I tell you, ye fhal truft it well ; ever ; It is tratling but truth, the footh thee to fay. I moved into my mind, how the footh stands. Mule on as thou may, the matter thou frains : Thou fins if thou freins, friend, furthe, I tell, 0, I have enough, Waldhave, my way for to make, c, Here in wildernels I dwel, my weird for to die, Waldhave conjured the Spirit, to flow much more of fundry things to come, as followeth. once Out something shal I say, as sooth I heard, m w Amongst siedges unsound, that over footh is: Three Mayes of the Mers that marry themselves Wich the meretrix of Mar, that they much love. Thefe brim beafts wild fhal byre full bold, To bail and to batter bairns anew. Then that be first with the buck head, The other a bear that is brim, find brew much care, The third a bull, with a bear that bears horns Hudge and hideous, on every file high : Thefe three shal raik and reve in the wild Norths There A cock with a keen comb shal compass them with All whole the ways where the land lyes: With fuch a creik and a cry fhal their kind rife, . That the kinrick be Christ shal be cumbered theres But the happier half fhal the cock have : For he is higher of head, and hurts the lefs, Thele falle lurdans life laks but a while, Till three libberts in a ling from London shal com And lean toward Louthian in Linlithgow thire, Toward Glafgow they go, graithly thereafter, Attour the hills where the way lyes, And on Govanmoor graiths them to fleep: Then a Lyon as Lord, fhal leap them among, And learn them a leffon, though they loath think Fel falcons in field fhal their fey worth, And their formals fo far fleemed for ever : Then purvey the powock with thy proud shawes, Thou shalt have part of the pelf, when the pack ope Then a Chifcain uncholen fhal chofe forth him And ride through the Realm, and Roy shal be cal Then hal Worthily dwel on lofts And choose them a chief Lord of Royality holden Scors heirs of Scotland that skail them full wide; In Humber shal burly, their right for to have. Greffon or Godrant that were great Loids, They were taylied in that time with untrue folk, Heaven, and even heirs of the land, Shal rent them, and rife, and reel in their way, And noy all the Norroways that has them we When dead that rife and marvels thow, (wrou Look him flat in face, and none fhal him know : Then the Lilly so leil, with notable beirns,

There shal none other ride thele riorus beafts.

end Bodwort in Britain, to the beirn bold, As. with, Bids him blythly abide in battle joynt;
Then a Lyon shal leap loose out of bands, The fixth out of Ireland, nobleft of deeds. ile, But when be is loofe, then rest there is norte. thered When the Syce is up, and the Sing is under, Then shal the dead arise and work great wonder? Among & kind men in Kyrh kindle fhal a care, There fhal a Counsel fit that shal whole banks bare, l come hen Saxons are let with futle thoughts re, And proves partly to prick with party faces , (19 And Wales warps up with wonderful deeds, And Ireland helps that head to his mon hight, And all Yorkshire shal help : prove when he likes. ng, He fhal bind him to bide with beirns anew. think, Enter up at a fide where the fea fills, In his own kind ground where that he was born. With dignity and dear men that him well loves, ves, For to conquels the clear Crown of Englands line. k open But all would fall were not forces, that the fool thinks himse He should be subtilly sold, were not Christ would, That this dolorous date must drive to an end, And the baftards blood left is for ever. lden. Then in Bitain, that day fee who fo will, de ; Shal never baffards brook a foot broad of earth. He shal be hurled and harled, and hested to death, With a Wolf out of Wales, & bring him out of days. lk, And conquest the clear Cown of Englands right. He fhal bring all England into good peace, While an Hunter fhal rile, and telgn in the North. Rix up his banners with riotous beirns, rough For lafety and supply of Bruces lands. Much furt and ftrife fbal fteir a while, From Sen ?

From the North to the South fea, who folist,
For when the towrs of Torn is tumbled in the fe
With hunger and hard life, and falshood on loft.

Within 7 years after great wonders thal be fee Be that the I ibbetts race isfaftly at an end'; Then the Lilly fo leil fhal lend in his lands, And to the Lyon shal get Lordships great: For the Lyon thal arrive at Carlile, And leap on the land, as Lord of the Ground, He shal leind in the land, with his leif beirns, And lame the Libbert, and lose him for ever, Shal never the Libbert leap one day after: In bold Britain to brook, the date is near paffed, That King shal deal and part all the broad lands, To the Bruces blood, and other bold Knights, That shal go with the way to the venging of Ch In the Vale of Jehofaphat feen shal he be, Where many Sarafins find quake with their hearts When the dead men shal rife, and shew them a fig As marvelous Merling hath faid of befores Take heed to this tale that I now thee tell, And truff it as truly as it were true written: When that falshood bath foor, and freedom is lof And coverousness hath the Kyth at his own will When laughty is laid low under foot, And kindnels is courrefie his friend to beguile, And no truth fhal be frewed to Christian Lands. But all bent to deceit, and none truft other; Nor the Father the Son in his bodily oaths. Holy Ki k thal have no girth but plainly overture And Lechery on loft, and none spare other, And each blood with other knits rogether, The Law of our Savior is quite forgotten.

R, This is a tive talking that Thomas of tells, the hat the Hare that hirple on the hard Rone, o loft. In hope of grace, but grace gets fhe none. be fee Then Gladimoor and Govan fhal gape thereafter, Think not long on this lofs, for it is near hand. When the Lamb is loofe that the holy Kirk keep, Then fal fhood is fet in Sieges of Rome. And Works for the warrand that the cure wan. Many Sieges fhal figh within fhort time after, id, And many marvels that be feen within thort time. ns, When the mouth of Arran the top hath overturned ۲, Then fhal Dumbartan mel of old done deeds : offed, And fo fhal Arran hope in a new mans hands; ands, In hope of Dumbar, when Hails shal haule : hts, When the hunter shal come with his kind ratches, Chri Hunt Fotherick and Fife, and the field win. When Summer is Winter, and Winter is weet, learts. With warping wind and tempest great, n a fig! Then falfhood is ready his friend to beguile, With hunger and hership over all the broad lands, Then shal the poor people be spilled full near. The Leed with the lucken hand is brought out of days is loft, Subtilly his life thal lofe, and many another, will. And many doughty that die for that deed : And many Leed into the North that their life lole, For covetouinels and treason them loses the Land, inds: Many a Wife and Maiden that wring both their hands Before this wicked War be brought to an end. . The first root of this War shal rife in the North, turne That the Ifles and Ireland fhal mourn for them both, And the Saxons leafed into Brutes Lands. When the Moon is dark in the fir ft of the number : With four Crefcents, to eke forth the days, TH And

And thrife teni is felcouth to fee, With an L. to loofe out the reft of the number ; Syne let three and two threips as they will. This is the true date that Merling of tells, And gave to King Uter, Arthurs father. And for to meen and muse with these merry wor For once Britain shal be in a new Knights hands. Who lo hap to bide, shal fee with his eyes, And Merling and Waldhave have faid of before: And true Thomas told it in his time after, As Saint Beld in his book brieved the fame : Mute one if ye may, for mifter ye have, I that give you a token that Thomas of tels, When a Lad with a Lady shal go over the fields, And many fair thing weeping for dread, For love of their dear friends lyes looking on hills, That it fall be wo for to tell the teind of their fort Then fhal be wafted their chief Lands. Where God curfes with his mouth, dead must foll Now wor thou, Waldhave, my will is way to pai To wood and wilderness, where my way lyes. Then is the Libberts three leamed for ever, And the Lyon that be Lord and leader for footh, Andail Britain the broad fhal him bow to ; And his barnage bold fhal him blefs keep, Then fhal fruit well, and fashion of corn, If freedom and friendship his fisnce be holden. Ceyrhe Chriften men of Chrift, & honor our K Of all cures and cares, in this coft angers. And thus he fundred me fra; I frained no long

And thus he fundred me fra; I frained no long But I marvelled fast at his fair head: I studied right stably, all stonisht thereof, That I winked ere I wist, and wrought upon steel ber : And when I wakened, written I found all thele words on war, wanted there none, Brieved on a broad book, and on my break laid : Bleffed be the briever that the book wrote. Then gan I make me to muse, & melling therewith, and. The first morning of May this marvel I saw, ınds. As I lay mine alone on Lawdon Law, Looking to the Lennox, as me leif thought.

The Prophecy of Gildas.

Hen holy Kirk is wrack'd & wil has on wir, And paftors are plukt, & pild without piry When Idolatry is in Ens and Ree, elds, And spiritual Pastors vexed and away, And all effaces in fight are unknown, hills, Because of their clothing cunning or craft, r forre piritually suspended, subverted and suspected, Refolle Promped up like Princes, as the Peacock proud, o pafe Refusing their Religion and their right rule, Then in the North a wicked wind that blows That all the Realm shal rue right soon thereafter. The gray bound shal be grieved and driven at under : And tramped for his truth, to whom he kept truth, The kinder of his Kyth shal not him know, But him and his misknow, that ever they never knew, Then shal many ferly fall right foon after, And from Caithness to Doyer shal walk but war; And mourn for his misfortune, that failed to foon ; But better mourn for themselves for need the have, Hales, when thou halteft herple not but bold thee, If thou speaked where thou froke, it shal able skall The barred Lyon lawlets at thee fhal be grived, (thee ore; e:

5.

oth,

n. ur Ki

longer

fleep:

Shal learch and feek thee, to deftroy thee for ever Yet fhal a beien from Berwick busk him and bown And fearth the trading of trews that were afore tane By the heedless people that held at their own hand, The Holds whole, and the Herds had deftroyed: Reason shal be sought, and granted shal be none : The movers thereof shal mend, and may not mend Then that the Countel which cumbred bath the Ki Call for comfort, but long may they crave, They marked to the highest, and to overbale the of But all in vain they work, they shal not prevail, They that work unwife, and wit they that lack. Then wearied their welrd, that e're they were wrog Then shal the Ratches in this Region take, And run their race rudely but any return, The best of the Kyth shal cry for support, But learce fhal they rife, they fhal be fo lweir, The bound which was harmed, then miffed that ! Who loved him worth thal weep for his wrack, Yet that whelp rife out of the fame race, That rudely fast rair, and rule the whole North: And quite the old quarrel of old deeds done, Though he from his Hold be kept back a while, The Cock dare not crow, though it be his kind: But keep himielf clois, while come fhal his time. Prepare thee Edinburgh and pack up thy Packs, Thou shalt be left void, be thou leif or loath, Because thou art variant and fleemed thy faith : Through envy and coverousness, that combered the True Thomas me told in a troublelome time, (c In an harvest morning at Eldome hills.

The Prophecy of the English Chronicles.

d bown, Here fhal proceed an holy Hermite in King re tane Eltridus time : in this manner in the book of King Henry the fixth, laying, thele English-men for es much as they wie co dius kennels, trealon and caremend leinels of Gods Houle: Firft, by the Dancs, thenby the Kit the Normans, and the third time, by the scots, that they hold the most wretches, and the least worth of all other, they shal be overcome and vincust : then the World fhal be unftable:

The Prophecy of Sybilla and Eltrain.

WHen the Goat w the Golden Then comes the Anthelop, The next year theratter Gladimoor With many Senyours in a fop, thal be. Who fo likes for to read, Matvellous Merling and Beid, In this manner they shal proceeds Of things unknown, The truth now to record, And from the date of our Lord, Though that it be fhown, Take a thousand in calculation : And the longest of the Lyon, Four Crescents under one Crown. With St. Andrews Crofs thrife, Then threescore and thrise three. Take heed to Merling truly : Then shal the Wars ended be, And never again rife. In that year shal be a King,

rever

hand,

the old

zil,

the !

rth:

le,

d:

ne.

1,

k. Wrogu

> A Duke and no crowned King, Because the Prince shal be young, And render of years, Much forrow and Brife, Shal Le in Louthian and Fife, Through the Pulmaris falle fears. The Mandragil Moldiwarr, Through the supply of the fained

> Harr, And launcing of the Litbert. Linked in a laice. In Fife and Louthian that fland, With many bow, bill ard b and, And turn and flay all from hand. Without any grace, horn is chosen to the iea, The blind Moldiwart to Hop: Forth of all Airts. The Lyon ramping at the Royes. With the Pronye, and Papingues, And many Knights for to cloyes, Shal come from the South.

The fadled horse that be seen. Tyed to a tree green. And with a vifa la fine, In a bag shal he be born, Shine two thips in a thield, That day shal fit the neid, To be the Anthelops beild, And fetch him befor n. The Bears head and the Brock, The Beam and the bloody Yoke, Three Crefcents and a Cock. Shal come from the North : They that come to the broyle, And Knights keenly that toy! For love of the fickloyl, And fight upon Forth: When the battle draws near; In their fight shal appear, A Navy of men of War Approaching at hand-Then put their men in ordinance. With five hundreth Knights of Frai ce,

And a Doke them to advance, To be in Vanguard. And to the Anthelop shal leind, And take him cafily to friend,

The

Then the Libbert shal be teind, And desperate of bless. Scot and French shal take a part, With a proud hairrent heart, And shal upon the Moldiwart, Ere they diffever. His bow to him shal be no beild, All his Knights shal be kild; Himself slain in the field,

And vacquest for ever.
Thus that the Wars ended be,
Then peace and Policy
Shal reign in Albany
Stil without end.
And whoso likes to look,
The description of this book,
This writes Beid who will look
And so doth make an end.

Here followeth a Prophesie pronounced by a not queen and Matron called Sibilla Regina Austri, it came to Solomon, through the which she compiled stabooks at the instance and request of the said King lomon, and others diverse. And the sourch book a directed to a noble King called Baldwin, King of a broad Isle of Britain. Of the which she maketh me tion of two noble Princes and Emperours, the which is called Liones, of these two shal subdue and over the content of the princes to their Disdem and Crowned and also be gloristed and crowned in Heaven and Saints. The first of these two is Constantinus Manne, that was Leprosus the Son of Saint Helens to found the Cross.

The second is the fixth King of the Name STEVYART of SCOTLAND, the which was a most noble King.

BRITAIN.

N Scotland shal reign the most noble and valid Chistain that ever was: full of Wisdom and Poleruel in Justice as a Lyon, and storce. He shall meek as a Lamb, but somewhat inclined to fragility the steff. In his time shal be great Justice and Pea But slas, for sorrow; for by treason be shall be destro ed be, This Lamb shal make many good houses, and fair places: be shal take great adventerous travels, and a little before his death, be fhal have war with them that fhould be his friends, and he shal get victory over shem : But ill look by falfet of his own, he shal be drawn to a place of batel, where he shal get great discomfort by which he shal a nothite Therefore, alas, for forrow of his Line, which ftri, the bat be in great trouble. And after him there shal a Therefore, alas, for forrow of his Line, which iled to Shiftain of the Kyth unstable as the wind, wavering ling sthe waves of the Sea. In his time shal the Church nook aremble as an aspen leaf. and great trouble in all manner og of the Eftates, but it Shal not long last.

ook.

This:

d.

Alfo the wolf fhat rifeagainst bim out of the Northth me West, and make him great trouble: but he shal not pred over ail: for hy the help of the Wolfs brother, and the Fox, Crow be Wolf shal be flain by a water side: and soon after, a smoothere shal come out of the North, a Dragon and a Wolf, as Manhe which shal be the help of the Lyon, and bring the lens the Realm to great rest and peace with glory, with the most log and triumph, that the like was never seen this many Jame Cears before. For by the sweet smel of the Lilly and the lowr-de-luce, there shal a Chistain of the Kyth choose was out forth himself, stable as a stone, stedfast as the christal, Erm as the adamant, true as the Steel, immaculate as be Sun, without all treason. He shal fail on the fca, with walls on every fide, and that with great glory and Loy, to deliver the Kyth out of all thraldom and dolour : valiant for he shal be strong as the Wolf, wife as the Serpent, Police numble as the Lamb simple as the Dove, victorious as fall bighe Lyon, Prince of Juftice, the well of this Nation. ilis y offic shal bind his tail with the red Dragon and accompa-Peace my him with the Lyon : these three shal rise against the estroyed moldiwart, the which is cursed of God: this moldiwarts soal have an earthly skin as a goat; the vengea God shal fall upon him for sin, and the suffering great pride of his people unpunished: Also the thrust him forth of his Realm, and make all th chief Floods of this Realm to run blood : and afte the moldiwart shal flee, and take a ship to save him for he shal have no more power over this Realm: after that he shal be glad to give the third part i Realm, to have the fourth part in peace, and he fb get it : for the will of God is, that no man Shal mercy but he that is merciful: and after that b live in sorrow all his life time; and by adventur denly in a flood of the fea: and his progeny shal therless in Brange Countreys and Lands forever because they were gotten against the Law of God by that generation the Realm of England is repli all iniquity and abomination of fin. And fo the the Dragon with the Lyon [hal divide the Realm of land, and fo shal the Lamb be conquest by the power will of God, and not by ftrength of man.

Gas

And he that is an English man born, shal den perjure his native Nation and Realm: but yet the be as tributers to the aforesaid three Beasts, an wholly subdued to them. And then the Spouse of shal we glade of her deliverance, and her children inhabite their Lands with joy in the service of their ther by Greation. Well is the man that keepeth his part to that time. For after these days the tam to spoufc'fhall be well kept.

z!

B

But in the mean time, that all Religious Po suffer prizently perfecution, and specially the poor, have left all for their Spoule sake, for they shal be to flee to the mountains and caves for fagguard ngeand for whose sake they do suffer, Shal redress their doing of ur to joy without end.

o they And the I fle of Britain fhal be in all joy and peace, ill the ad the just shal be glad in Suppressing of their adverlaster ries, and then shal all good men and momen give pere himfast laud and praise to God Omnipotent; For God doth alm: Afer a man to be punished for sin.

part of And then shal the Owl, the Bear with the Eagle be the shall destroyed, because they were untrue to the Moon, and Shal singed into blood : For by their counsel the white hat be men, gentle of nature, were degenerate and made cruck enture ainst them that was his truftio friends: For he Shal shal be the cause of great and much trouble, and shedding of rever which innocent blood, and the beginning of much dis-God: brd amongst them that should be friends, and as for replease succession, they shal never inherit their Lands; and o the Main shal the Buce beware and take good heed that he Im of thed no blood in the land : but draw him to his ftrength; power or the Wolf shal await him at an advantage, and be death, and then Shal all the birds of the wood fing for al deny, that the Wolf is made watch man , and enemy to get the Fox; For all shal be one in truth, and peace, s, andreason shal be known, and the Sun shal shine clear, sufe of the the Moon shal be under covert and dark, till God hildren pleased to redress: The white Lyon ramping shall f their we his den aslarge, for his ftedfast truth that he hath eth his tept to the Kyth.

tam of And he Shal keep the Birds in their bounds with all Hery: But the Unicorn Shal couch full low for falsbood ous Perbet he hath wrought with the Raven ralping and that poor, was for their greediness and treason that they shal do by hat be sea, and under a great Hill; For the Gock that guard : bould have been true mas falfe, and drem with him the Papingo:

hall draw the best sowls in the Wood, wherefore but then let them take heed, for then comes their dithe Horn shall blow dolour in sound, that all the of Tyne shall quake; and the Hart shall run and little debate: Wo shall be, but it shall not long For the Wolf with the Dragon and the Dyon sha release that long lay in their den, and Justice shad, that was stayed to rise. Then shall tremble quake the Stalwart and the Starke, and the right be had, that justice shall draw, and wo shall them that no pity would have; For Chistain of the

Papingo: by the which the Rose gave no smel, il

And happy is that man that may it see;
But happy is that Chistain what ever he be.

that God would, should guide, and strike treason

FINIS.

trace he fore di ir diffra the Gall and mallong ta mole i mall be comble i right finall be cafon di cafon di be.

